- 1) Work on your budget plans and see how much you can offer.
- 2) After the budget is approved, decide on the date.
- 3) Once the budget and date are decided, contact Trix Bruce for availability.
- 4) Confirm the date with Trix Bruce.
- 5) Discuss with your committee and with Trix Bruce which performances and/or workshops you want to select, and confirm the total cost/fee.
- 6) Book (confirm) the event with Trix Bruce - she will put the event on her schedule.
- 7) Get the paperwork ready right away, rather than trying to make flyers and prepare the invoice at the last minute.

How long we can hold a tentative date?

Trix Bruce's schedule tends to fill up quickly. After setting a tentative date for a performance/workshop(s), Trix will gladly wait two weeks for confirmation. However, after two weeks, she will open up that weekend to allow another organization to book that date.

Once we have booked a date, is rescheduling possible?

After booking a date, rescheduling may be possible depending on Trix's availability. It is best to have everything approved in advance before booking.

Does Trix Bruce respond to calls for presenters/performers?

No. Trix only accepts direct invitations at this time.

Where does Trix Bruce present?
